Memorial Day ‘Taps’ sound for those lost at sea

Trumpeter Heather Hastings, of the Mahoosuc Community Band, plays “Taps” Monday afternoon, as clouds lower, scattered rain begins to fall, and the Honor Guard from the Jackson-Silver American Legion Post, after a 21-gun salute, tosses a wreath onto the placid waters of Lake Christopher, in honor of American soldiers and sailors who died at sea. This ceremony at the Lakeside Cemetery in Bryant Pond concluded the local Memorial Day commemorations. More photos: Page 12.

Bethel Annual Town Meeting Town budget down but taxes appear poised to increase

By MICHAEL DANIELS

If voters at Bethel’s June 11 Annual Town Meeting approve either the municipal budget proposed by town selectmen, or the somewhat smaller budget proposed by the town’s Budget Committee, they will see town spending drop.

But whichever version they choose, they will also see their property taxes increase.

The tax increase appears inevitable because the town’s non-tax revenues for the coming year are projected to drop by considerably more than spending.

As currently projected, those revenues — which are used to offset taxes — are expected to drop from $1,488,242 for the current year, to $1,263,971 for FY 09.

That represents a decline of $224,271, or just over 15 percent.

The drop is driven by a variety of factors, including reduced state revenue and local road assistance, declining fee revenue, and flat or declining revenue from excise taxes, and little or no growth in the town’s taxable valuation.

Voters get their say on who hauls solid waste

By ALISON ALOISIO

As a result of a petition submitted May 14 by Scott Hynek, Bethel residents will decide at Town Meeting June 11 who they want to remove their solid waste.

The vote will follow recent decisions in Newry and Hanover to distribute the work among three different bidders.

But if Bethel chooses a contractor or combination of contractors different from those already approved by the two smaller towns, the vote could create a stalemate.

The three towns share the Tri-Town Transfer Station in Bethel, and all must agree on a contract for it to take effect.

Background
For many years, Pine Tree Waste has handled solid waste disposal for Tri-Town.

Two years ago, Hynek spearheaded a petition that resulted in a Town Meeting vote to require selectmen to put solid waste contracts out to bid, and to generally take the lowest bidder.

In February of this year, Pine Tree submitted low bids for shingle, tire, construction debris and oversize bulky waste disposal.

Cambodian humanitarian to keynote Gould’s 2008 Commencement

By TUCKER KIMBALL

The Gould Academy Class of 2008 will receive diplomas on Saturday, May 31, during the school’s 172nd Commencement Exercises.

The Rev. Virginia S. Rickman of the West Parish Congregational Church will give the invocation, and the keynote speaker will be Gould alumnus Arn Chorn-Pond, an internationally recognized human rights activist, community organizer, and survivor of the Cambodian Khmer Rouge.

Valedictorian Wenjing “Florence” Liao and student speaker Andrew Young will also address their classmates, teachers, and guests prior to the awarding of honors and diplomas.

Keynote speaker

Born into a family of performers and musicians Arn Chorn-Pond was sent to a children’s work camp after the Khmer Rouge came to power in Cambodia in 1975.

He escaped death by execution and starvation by playing his flute for camp guards and later fled his captors when Vietnamese troops invaded Cambodia in 1979.

Today he works as the founder and spokesperson for Cambodian Living Arts, now a project of World Education, and supports many other Cambodian renewal projects around the world.

Arn is the recipient of the Reebok Human Rights Award, the Anne Frank Memorial Award and the Kohl Foundation International Peace Prize.

In 2007 he received an honorary doctorate from Providence College, his alma mater, for his worldwide humanitarian work.

He is also the subject of the Emmy-nominated documentary, “The Flute Player.”

ENOUGH INSULTS

To the Editor:
The chairwoman of Greenwood, Loretta Mikols, believes the resident taxpayer does not know what he or she is talking about in the area of public safety.
Mrs. Mikols continues to insult the voters of this town when they disagree with her on issues, especially concerning the fire department. The voting taxpayer knows when his property taxes are too high and have clearly showed that at the last two Town Meetings, and special Town Meeting.
Perhaps it's time for Mrs. Mikols to leave office and elect someone more in step with the resident taxpayer.

PLAYGROUND INSTALLATION

To the Editor:
The day is nearing and we are all very excited about the upcoming installation. I have been hearing from lots of people who are going to volunteer to help out with installing the new playground equipment on Saturday, June 7, and it is much appreciated. We are still looking for a few more volunteers; please contact me at 824-2515 or staciemelanson@yahoo.com if you are able to help out.
To those of you planning to be there on Saturday, please be at Davis Park at 7:30 a.m. There will be coffee and muffins available (provided by Mallard Mart). Lunch will also be provided by The Good Food Store.
I have listed the tools and equipment we will need for the installation. If you have it, please bring it: vise grips, duct tape, pencils/black sharpie markers, gloves, sunscreen, insect repellent, carpenters' levels (2, 3 and 4 foot and bullet), electric drills (3/8-inch VSR), stepladders (the taller the better), ratchet sets (wrench, sockets, extensions), Allen wrench sets 3/16 inch and 7/32 inch, open-end wrench sets, tape measures, hammers and sledge hammer (for gentle persuasion), rubber mallets, tin snips (to cut binding on palettes), utility knives, steel digging bar, drift punches, rounded soil tamper, carpenter's square, round-nosed shovels, hand-held post hole diggers (great to use to clean out holes or widen if necessary).
Please remember that the park will be closed May 27 to June 14. This is for your safety! Thank you all for your help and support. Please contact me if you have any questions or for more information.

BIKE CLUB E-MAIL LIST

To the Editor:
I'm writing to spread the word and spark interest in a western Maine bike club.
This summer I would like to start a more formal cycling club. I'm thinking the first step should be to create an e-mail mailing list that could be used to organize more group rides. It is my hope that this would grow into a forum-type website that would allow group rides and events to be easily posted and viewed. I know there are several smaller groups of people that ride together and I would like to use the Internet to connect people who might be looking for others to ride with. I'm hoping that we can create some more organized group rides throughout the summer that will meet a wide range of cycling abilities and types (road, mountain, cyclocross).
If anyone has any interest in being added to the e-mail list, or any ideas for getting this off the ground, please give me a call (890-5304) or send me e-mail (info@mahooosuctimberframe.com).

SEEKING VOLUNTEER GARDENERS

To the Editor:
Bethel's Garden Club is seeking volunteers, (guys and gals) to help us care for the town's public spaces, such as traffic islands and the gazebo, etc. Do you enjoy seeing Bethel's traffic islands in full summer bloom? Then, please consider committing a small amount of time, no more than a week, and become a part of our beautification efforts. It is rewarding to see the results of your labors and to hear out-of-town visitors compliment our gardens. It's a great opportunity to be a working volunteer for this beautiful town we all call home.
Planting and raking began Memorial Day weekend. Please call Marlene Engdahl at 824-8640 and let us know of your willingness to help. Bethel's Garden Club is very grateful, in advance, for giving us your time.

LOCAL NATURE PHOTO CONTEST

To the Editor:
The Bethel Conservation Commission would like to remind amateur photographers from near and far about our upcoming 3rd annual Local Nature Photo Contest. As in the past, we are looking for entries portraying native fauna, flora and natural landscapes in the town of Bethel. Photo contest forms will be available at the Town Office and the Bethel Public Library by early June.
So as the spring unfolds, keep your camera near at hand and snap some pictures of the natural beauty of Bethel. We are looking forward to many wonderful entries this August. For more information, please call 824-0547.

LYME DISEASE AWARENESS

To the Editor:
My name is Tracy Poland. I have had lyme disease for 19 years. I went undiagnosed for 16 of those years. When this happens, symptoms become much worse and the disease becomes chronic. I suffer from everything from daily aches and pains, headaches, severe stomach problems, vision disturbances, hearing problems, depression, memory loss, heart palpitations, shortness of breath, fatigue, weakness, tingling and numbness in my face and other parts of my body. These symptoms come and go. I can wake up feeling horrible and have the symptoms come and go throughout the day or for days at a time. I have spent many days not being able to get out of bed due to the severe fatigue and weakness.
My family and friends have a hard time understanding what I go through because I look healthy on the outside. I have had to learn to live with a disease that is so unpredictable I can't make any type of plans or even work at this point.
Doctors have a hard time diagnosing lyme disease due to the way it mimics many other diseases or syndromes. If you have been diagnosed with MS, fibromyalgia, lupus, rheumatoid arthritis, mono, chronic fatigue, depression, heart condition, ALS, sinus infections, food allergies, migraines, irritable bowel syndrome, anxieties or have had any strange rashes, you may want to consult a lyme-literate doctor who can discuss lyme disease with you. There are two excellent lyme-literate doctors in Kennebunk who could help you find answers to unanswered questions about lyme disease.
If you find an embedded tick, use tweezers to pull it out slowly, clean the area with alcohol and watch for symptoms such as a rash of any kind, size, shape or color. You do not have to get a rash to have lyme disease; you might have flu-like symptoms, headache, acheyness, possible fever, fatigue, weakness, neck ache or any strange symptoms — everyone reacts differently to lyme disease. A lyme test can be inaccurate if it comes back negative. It depends on when you got infected and for how long you have been infected. So if you have been tested negative, you still could have lyme disease, if you're experiencing any of these symptoms.
Please feel free to attend my lyme disease support group held every Tuesday night from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Hope and Healing Center at 52 High Street, South Paris. Feel free to call me anytime at 674-3781 for information about lyme disease. I am happy to share information on any questions you may have as well as doctor telephone numbers.

ily Health Center in Livermore Falls.
The EMR system will replace the paper records that the health centers currently use.
"EMR is already increasing our ability to improve care for our health center patients," said Connie Coggins, president/CEO of Health Reach.
"EMR technology will guarantee our medical providers better access to patient data and charts, which speeds responses to patients and increases patient satisfaction. Our improved efficiency will assist us in scheduling patients sooner and confirming appointments regularly to identify patients who need to be rescheduled and fill in the gaps with patients seeking to be seen right away. The EMR system also has the capability to electronically prescribe medications directly to pharmacies, along with new care management tools such as patient educational materials."
The Betterment Fund was created for charitable purposes by the will of the late William Bingham, 2nd, a resident of Bethel, who died in 1955.
Second grant
BFHC has also received a $5,000 grant from the Agnes M. Lindsay Trust. The funds will go toward equipment expenses for the EMR implementation.
Born in Roxbury, Mass., Agnes M. Lindsay (1870 -1937) left a legacy for "charitable, educational or philanthropic purposes . . . having in mind my interest in the education of poor and deserving students from rural communities, my interest in the relief of suffering and my interest in child welfare."
The Bethel Family Health Center serves 4,000 patients from Andover, Bethel, Gilead, Greenwood, Hanover, Newry, Upton, and Woodstock, as well as the surrounding towns in Oxford County.

AT HOME IN THE SUN—A statue of Korean War hero Pfc. Emory Bennett now stands proudly in the new riverside park of his hometown, Cocoa, Fla. The statue was created by Bethel sculptor Tom White in 2006, with local Korean War veterans Sonny Bean, Don Bennett and Dick Littlefield contributing their knowledge of uniform details. Pfc. Bennett died in Korea in 1951, while providing covering fire for his comrades during an enemy "human wave" attack. (Photo: Stephen Lovejoy) tended Gould for three years and is a member of the National Honor Society. She was a member of the JV girls' soccer team her junior year and the varsity softball team her senior year.

She has also been an active participant in dance throughout her career at Gould. Last summer Florence completed course work in law at the University of Chicago.

Her junior year she received the Rensselaer Award for her accomplishments as a science student. Over her academic career she has taken six AP courses including AP Mechanics, AP Chemistry, AP Electricity and Magnetism and was the only international student to take AP Literature and Composition.

Florence will attend the University of California at Berkeley in the fall.

Andrew Young is the son of Colin Young and Jacqueline Arthur of Ipswich, Mass. He has attended Gould for three years.

A skilled athlete, Andrew played varsity lacrosse throughout his career at Gould and was also a member of the J.V. and varsity soccer teams. He spent his winters on the prep freestyle skiing team and also participated in the Rug Rats Program.

He has taken four AP courses over his academic career at Gould including AP statistics, AP mechanics and AP government and politics. Andrew will take a gap year after graduation.

Baccalaureate
On Friday afternoon, Rev. Rickman will deliver the invocation at Gould's traditional baccalaureate ceremonies at the West Parish Congregational Church.

The graduating class has chosen classmate Amelia Brodka and English Teacher Bonnie Pooley to address them.

Amelia Brodka is the daughter of Janusz and Maria Brodka of Linden, N.J. She has attended Gould for four years and is a member of the National Honor Society. Amelia is a talented skateboarder.

When she wasn't practicing and competing on the Gould team all four years, she could be found competing professionally. She is currently one of the top ranked female skateboarders in the world. Amelia also participated on the prep league snowboarding team throughout her career at Gould and played JV soccer her first year.

A strong English student, she received the English Book Award her sophomore year and was a peer tutor in the Writing Center her junior year. Well respected among her peers, she was one of four head proctors her senior year.

She also founded the student environmental organization "Gould Goes Green," and was recently honored with the Bonnie Pooley Environmental Award, which will be given annually at Gould.

What spare time she has left is devoted to leading canoe expeditions as a Registered Maine Guide, reading and writing, and staying fit wandering the waterways and mountains of northern New England.

Locally, she participates on the Board of Directors at the Mahoosuc Land Trust and the Western Mountains Senior College. After 35 years of service to Gould as a teacher, dorm parent, advisor, coach, and, including 27 years as a college counselor, Bonnie is retiring at the end of this school year.

On Friday evening the Gould Academy music department, under the direction of James McLaughlin III and E. Scot Fuller, will present its annual spring concert in Bingham Auditorium.

The concert, which begins at 7:30 p.m., will feature both instrumental and vocal selections. It is open to the public and there is no charge for admission.

Briefly

A busy day for the WFD

WOODSTOCK—It was all in 24 hours work for the Woodstock Fire Department. Late Sunday night, firefighters were called to Concord Pond to put out bonfires left behind by parties. They returned home at about 2:30 a.m. The next morning at 8:30 a.m., the department lined up for the annual Memorial Day parade in Locke Mills. But then they got a call that a small boy had fallen from a boat into Lake Christopher. They responded and fortunately, the boy had been pulled safely from the water. The WFD returned to Locke Mills just in time to join the parade as it turned from the Gore Road onto Route 26. After that parade, firefighters traveled to West Paris for a parade there at 10:30 a.m. During that procession, they picked up a small boy who had fallen and scraped his knees on the sidewalk, transporting him (with aid provided by Tri-Town Ambulance) farther up the road to where his father was standing. The WFD then returned to Woodstock for the hometown parade, lining up at 12:30 p.m. Then a report came in of a van accident on Merrifield Hill. With Tri-Town and the West Paris Fire Department providing traffic control for the parade, the Woodstock firefighters went to the accident (no one was hurt). They returned just in time to join the parade as it started. "We don't often get three calls in one day," said Chief Geoff Inman. "It was an eventful day, but everyone was safe and no one was hurt."

Ando ambulance vote now June 7

ANDOVER—A town vote on ambulance options will take place June 7 at 9 a.m. at the Town Hall. The vote, originally scheduled for June 2, was changed because the earlier date did not allow enough time for resident notification, according to selectman Hope Peterson. Andover turned down renewal of the Med-Care 10-year interlocal agreement in March, and a committee has been studying alternatives since then. A request for proposals brought one from Bethel Rescue, but only for temporary service, Peterson said. The Med-Care option remains, she said. A public hearing on the issue was scheduled for last night (Wednesday). The current interlocal agreement is scheduled to expire June 7. Of the 11 Med-Care member towns, Andover and Mexico have voted down renewal. Hanover and Rumford will consider it next week. The other towns, including Newry, have approved a new agreement.

Hip Hop Handbook at THS

BETHEL—The "Hip Hop Handbook," a performance group dedicated to the promotion of literacy and creative expression through the Hip Hop Arts, will teach and perform at Telstar Friday, May 30. During the school day, the group will teach workshops to both middle and high school students, educating them about the history of hip-hop, along with hands-on instruction of emceeing, deejaying, graffiti arts, and breakdancing. In the evening, the group will present a showcase of their talents on the Telstar auditorium stage. The showcase will include performances of musical rap, DJ turntables, vocal percussion, and breakdancing. Their goal is to build confidence in youth, promote the positivity of the Hip Hop culture, and instill self-esteem in kids by helping them to express themselves through this art form. The performance will be held from 6 to 7:30 p.m. in the Telstar Auditorium, and admission will be $4. All proceeds will benefit the TMS Visiting Artists Fund, which will help to bring and visiting artists and performers to Telstar next year. (For more, see Page 11.)

On the other side of the ledger, the Bethel's SAD44 and county levies are due to increase — by 2.4 and 10.4 percent respectively.

The proposals

Last year at Town Meeting, voters approved municipal spending of $3,098,025.

This year the selectmen are proposing to cut that figure by 2.4 percent, to $3,023,045; while the Budget Committee is countering with a proposed cut of just under 6 percent, to $2,918,159.

When the school ($2,138,553) and county ($234,394) bills are added in, that totals up to $4,156,395 (selectmen) or $4,051,509 (Budget Committee) that must be raised from taxes. The comparable figure (town, school and county) for the previous year was $3,932,446, and was supported by a property tax rate of $9.15 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation. Should Town Meeting voters approve the selectmen's proposed budget for the coming year, the tax rate is projected to increase to $9.67.

Should they opt instead for the Budget Committee's proposal the new rate would be $9.42.

(These figures are likely to change slightly in either direction after the Board of Assessors finalizes taxable valuation in August.)

Cuts already made

The two boards began their budget deliberations in mid-March, at which point they were confronted with a draft municipal budget of $4,152,969.

Over the course of seven meetings (and numerous split votes on both boards) they honed that figure down to their present recommendations.

The deepest cut came in the Capital Improvements, where the selectmen axed $1,031,300.

That money had been intended to fund a new ambulance, a sidewalk machine, paving the Bailey Road, a new skatepark, and land purchases by the ambulance barn and airport.

The Budget Committee agreed with those cuts, and added another $57,000, from money for resurfacing the Annis Road and improving Swan Hill Road.

The two boards also differ in their recommendations for the Police Department and Ambulance Service.

Those two lines had initially been proposed at $273,308 and $187,880 respectively.

The selectmen recommend a $1,673 cut from the police budget and no cut from the ambulance service line.

The budgeters, however, recommend cutting $17,759 from the police budget and $31,800 from the ambulance service — in both cases by providing a lower level of coverage than supported in the selectmen's recommendation.

Both boards agreed to $67,948 in cuts from the Solid Waste Management budget, by adopting the so-called "low-bid scenario" (see related story).

The selectmen are expected to formally approve the budget proposal for the Town Meeting warrant at their regular meeting Monday evening, June 2.

Waste

But the company was underbid by Archie's of Mexico in the curbside and transfer station waste disposal bidding.

Taking all the lowest bids would mean a savings of approximately $60,000 for the three towns combined.

Sequence of meetings

In mid-April, Newry and Hanover selectmen voted to take the lowest bids in each category, with Grimmel's as the third contractor (for metal disposal).

The same week, Pine Tree came back to the Bethel selectmen with numbers lower than those they first submitted, but still higher than Archie's.

The board decided to postpone a decision.

Newry selectman Steve Wight criticized Bethel for allowing Pine Tree a chance to change its bid.

But Archie's then returned with a change in its bid that included a fuel surcharge.

The gap closed between the two companies' figures, but taking the low bidders still meant a total savings of approximately $34,000.

On May 12, Bethel selectmen again took up the issue.

Don Bennett said he had heard from some residents who liked Pine Tree's service and had expressed a willingness to pay a little more to keep it.

But the board voted 3-2 to go with the lowest bidders.

The total cost to the three towns for the bid items would be $311,637.

As the meeting concluded, town manager Scott Cole agreed to arrange a signing of a three-year contract with Archie's for May 15. He said he agreed at the urging of Hynek.

But then yet another discussion took place, this time between Bethel chairman Stan Howe and Cole.

Howe expressed concern that the next board meeting on May 19 might bring a reconsideration vote.

That prompted a decision to wait on the signing until at least May 20. Cole also said some details of the contract still needed to be worked out.

On May 19, Newry selectmen signed a contract with Archie's, the fuel surcharge included.

The contract had been e-mailed by Hynek to all parties involved, according to Newry selectman Steve Wight.

The Newry board expressed displeasure that Bethel had opened the door to changes in the bids.

"I thought a bid was a bid," said Wendy Hanscom.

Jim Largess said the Newry board's credibility has been negatively affected by the Tri-Town situation.

Added Steve Wight, "We're stuck at the mercy of Bethel. How does this keep happening?"

(Hanover selectmen met last week but did not sign the contract, according to Town Clerk Clem Worcester. He said that board is waiting to see the outcome in Bethel.)

Bethel petition

Hynek said he worried after Bethel's May 12 vote that Bethel selectmen might reverse their vote May 19.

He was also concerned that a deadline for petitions to put articles on the Town Meeting warrant was approaching.

So he gathered 134 signatures on a petition that asks voters to direct selectmen to authorize the contract that "has already been signed" by the other two towns and Archie's.

(The contract had not yet been signed by Newry when the petition was circulated.)

On May 19, the Bethel board voted unanimously to rescind their earlier vote and approve placing the petition article on the warrant.

"Let the town decide at public meeting just exactly who they want to do their solid waste," said Bob Everett, who had voted earlier in favor of the low bidders.

Dennis Doyon, who had voted with Everett, agreed.

"I'm going to give you what you want," he told Hynek. "This is the second time you've thrown the select board under the bus and forced our hand."

Doyon said choosing the low bidder is not always best in the long run.

Citing the example of the Bethel Fire Station, Doyon said the town will have to pay $37,000 to fix problems with the building because the low bidder, who got the construction contract, has gone out of business.

Bennett agreed. "I don't think that forcing this board to take the low bid, or even to always put things out to bid, is always the right thing to do."

"Sometimes we do know what we're doing, and if we don't, the next election we'll be out."

Concluded Doyon, "Hopefully, this will be the last petition we see in front of us for quite a long time."

From the Bethel Police Log:

Tuesday, May 27

At 1:45 a.m. Officer Travis Fillmore stopped a vehicle for a defect on the Mayville Road. James P. Backus Sr., 40, of Ticonderoga, N.Y., was arrested for operating without a license.

Monday, May 26

At 1:50 a.m. Officer Travis Fillmore responded to the Mayville Rd. for a report of a domestic dispute in Woodstock. The information was passed on to the state police.

At 8:50 a.m. Lt. S.R. White and Officer Travis Fillmore responded to Woodstock at the request of state police for a report of a child in the water. The boy got out safely.

At 9:30 a.m. Lt. S.R. White was contacted by phone by a subject who had run away from Officer Jeff Campbell on May 25. The subject, Corey R. Emerson, 25, turned himself in and was charged with operating after suspension and failure to submit to arrest or detention. He was taken to the Oxford County Jail.

Sunday, May 25

At 1:46 a.m. Officer George Gould responded to Route 2 for a report of a vehicle stuck across the road. A semi had tried to pull out of Martin St. when the trailer slid down the embankment. There was no damage. A tow truck was called.

At 6:35 p.m. Officer Jeff Campbell observed a van on Main St. The driver pulled into a parking lot upon seeing the cruiser. The driver got out the passenger side door, talking on a cell phone, and walked away. The officer told him to stop, and asked for his license, registration and proof of insurance. The subject said it was not his vehicle, but would get the owner. The officer told him to stay and look for the information, but the subject then ran away. A tow truck was called, and as it arrived two other subjects approached the officer and said it belonged to them. The officer said the vehicle had been used in a crime and was being impounded. One of the subjects said the vehicle had been taken without his permission. Asked if he wanted to report it stolen, the subject said no. He began to argue and demanded another officer. He walked away, threatening the officer. On later contact by phone, the subject said he wanted the vehicle returned, but was told no.

Saturday, May 24

At 1:15 p.m. Officer Jeff Campbell took a report from a complainant who had borrowed a pickup truck that the vehicle had been stolen overnight. The complainant was asked to return with the truck owner to confirm the vehicle was stolen. The owner and complainant wrote statements to that effect. The officer noted abrasions on the owner, who had a strong odor of alcohol. The vehicle was recovered at 5:10 a.m. on Route 232 in Rumford, where it had been involved in a crash and fire. The Rumford P.D. was investigating.

At 2:33 p.m. Officer Jeff Campbell and Lt. S.R. White responded to Mason St. for a complaint from a subject who said his life and his family were in danger. The subject said he had a knife, and the lieutenant removed a very large Bowie knife from beneath the subject's jacket and a smaller knife from his pants pocket. On speaking with the man's relatives, the officers were told he was a convicted felon, had recently completed probation and had stopped taking his medication. The man said he knew he should not have had the knife concealed but felt he was in danger. The man agreed to be seen by a doctor, and he was transported to the hospital by Bethel Rescue.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

I finally got around to spending a good part of the weekend cleaning up my much-neglected flower garden.

A real gardener would be a lot more on top of things than I am. A real gardener would have done a good fall cleanup by cutting back the plants and removing the miserable weeds. A real gardener would be in their garden early in the spring dividing overgrown plants, putting in new ones and making sure everything was ready for a new season of blooming beauties.

Needless to say, I am not a real gardener. I love the results of a nicely tended garden, but I'm not very good at doing the tending. Because of that when I finally get around to dealing with it, it becomes a major chore. Then I go at it like a maniac waging war on crab grass, dandelions, a whole bunch of other nasty weeds and those darn red beetles that eat away at my lilies.

So I spent most of the weekend doing exactly that, communing with nature, getting dirt under my fingernails even with a pair of gloves on and swearing a lot. I was a gardening fool working myself into a stupor.

Eventually the job got done and I was very pleased with the results and refused to think about the fact that I would have to weed all over again in a week or so. Right now the garden looks great! The lemon lilies, bleeding hearts and chives are in bloom and the irises are not far behind.

I couldn't wait to get up in the morning to admire my handiwork and to smell the lilies. I would have done that too if in fact I could have moved once I got out of bed. Who would have thought a weekend of gardening could lead to such pain?

The irises may have been thanking me for removing the weeds that were choking their roots, but my body was cursing me from every single muscle.

I was a gardening fool working myself into a stupor.

I managed to make it from bed to bathroom with my best imitation of a Frankenstein walk, but the down and up movement with the commode proved to be quite a challenge.

I thought a hot shower would help calm my screaming muscles down a bit and I guess it did until I attempted to get dressed. I would hate to have that scene caught on video because an overweight 60-year-old woman attempting to put on a pair of jeans with legs that won't bend is not a pretty sight.

With much pain and effort I accomplished the mission and made my way to the kitchen table with a cup of coffee and the morning paper, all the while cursing the miserable aging process.

As I was wondering where my younger more agile self went I saw a headline on the front page of the newspaper; "76-year-old oldest to reach summit of Mount Everest." That's Mount Everest with its 29,035-foot summit and I was whining about walking 50 feet of flat ground to my driveway. A man only 25 days away from his 77th birthday climbed the highest mountain in the world and I sat there hoping one of my kids would visit so I could have them refill my coffee just so I wouldn't have to get up.

"What an inspiration" I thought to myself. I'm sure the man must have some sore muscles and stiff legs just like I did, but he climbed Mount Everest and all I did was weed the darn garden and not a very big one at that.

I made a decision right then to quit bemoaning my lost youth and stop using age as an excuse to not exercise. If I got myself in better shape I wouldn't be climbing mountains, but I could at least weed my garden without being in pain for a week.

Something as simple as walking every day is a good place to start I thought. The way I see it a good walk every morning will do wonders for my physical condition and gosh darn it I'll start today. That is as soon as I can get up and out of this darn chair.

We will drive to Errol, N.H., and put in on the Magalloway River and go into the lake, paddle, have lunch and paddle back on the Androscoggin. Bring your canoe, PFDs, lunch, and binoculars, and camera to get a close-up look of loons, osprey, eagles and more. For information call 865-3648, Joan Saxe or Sierra Club — Maine at 761-5616.

Water District news and thinking cap plans

Last week Kathy and I visited one of Bethel's more insightful, senior citizen water district customers. The topic of raising water rates twice in one summer came up as we discussed the state of cabbages and kings. Our friend wondered how much the district's electricity bill was now that all the water had to be pumped. Why couldn't that kind of money be put into restoring the Chapman Brook watershed?

A couple of days later I carried these questions to Lucien at the water district office and learned this: Right now BWD's monthly bill from CMP amounts to about $5,000 and as the well field is expanded the electricity bill will probably be about $7,000 per month.

Earlier this spring the water district crew returned to the mountainside impoundment basin and cleared it completely of gravel and rubble. But it has already been loaded with debris again in just a short time. Of course, too, when the washout occurred last summer, the state cancelled its surface water waiver given to BWD nearly 20 years ago so that the Chapman Brook rehabilitation option is closed. There were two reasons for this — one was health and safety, the other reason was to improve the district's eligibility for getting FEMA funding assistance.

Nevertheless, BWD has not given up on the Barker Mountain watershed. There is a plan being given serious consideration to build a hydro power electrical generating plant in the watershed area that could supply most if not all of the district's electricity. Power could be used directly by the district for pumping water or power would be sold to CMP to offset the cost of power that is bought each month.

BWD had a study done by Jim Sysko for a hydropower installation and he said it could be done. The cost, at the time of the study, would be around $40,000. The energy from the hydropower could cover most or all BWD usage. It would also be an insurance policy of sorts against an anticipated rise in electrical power costs from oil price increases. This would be a BWD project only. There has been discussion amongst the Trustees about the possibility of using wind power and asking the town to be partners in this to help in some of the energy costs for the town and BWD. There has not been any discussion that I am aware of, between the town and BWD for this type of project yet. BWD trustees are "thinking out loud" about different uses of the watershed to be productive again and benefit all for generations as it has in the past.

Along with the hydropower generation, there is also the possibility, with signs of good feasibility, to set up a medium-sized wind power farm below the crest of Barker Mountain where it would face the prevailing westerly winds. Such a project would involve Sunday River Ski Resort but the Water District owns land that could provide a reasonably good site for wind power.

er. There's the possibility of sending the power over to the Sunday River side to join the power lines there. No study has been done on wind power or where to deliver it yet. Sunday River and BWD have not had any conversations of this. The resort owners and managers are not aware of this thinking on the District's part.

A third investment/improvement plan is to replace the West Bethel water system by connecting West Bethel to the new well field. The estimated cost this year to lay a water main across the Androscoggin is about $600,000. Lucien estimates that replacing the West Bethel distribution system with a new one would run about another million dollars, but it could supply new homes that are beyond the capacity of the present system. And the water would not be subject to iron contamination. The big advantage to West Bethel residents would be water for fire protection, which they don't have now. Adding fire protection and improving the public's health environment should be pretty compelling arguments for obtaining funds for such a project — that in the minds of West Bethel residents is long overdue. (But my part of Mayville and the Steam Mill don't have public water either.)

Uncommonly busy Saturday on the Common starting with:

The Bethel Historical Society's St. Never's Day Sale started by the dawn's early light to lead off the procession of events that would happen on the Common and its outskirts during the day. Your trash is my treasure is a formula that does not stick to me but for the benefit of tent sales like this one is, it seemed to be making sellers and buyers happy throughout the day.

Inside the Moses Mason House, the historical society sponsored Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show for elementary school student art got underway with the judging of all the exhibitor's submissions. This year's theme was "It's All Relatives," a show of people art and people doing things that seemed to spark the young students' enthusiasm. There were pictures of grandmothers, fathers, brothers and sisters and famous people in Bethel such as Barbecue Bob and his orange trailer. Judges this year were Larry Engdahl, Tim Kavanagh and me. The so-called day-of-judgment had to consider artistic merit but some of the most popular work turned out to be other pieces. One in particular that captured the attention of students and grownups was a portrait of a grinning policeman wearing a trooper's wide-brimmed hat. Many wondered out loud what had caused the grin.

Student winners for the 29th annual art show were all Crescent Park School students. There were some Woodstock entries this year, but the largest number of paintings and drawings came from Crescent Park. And the winners were: for the first and second grades: 1st, Kaiya Corriveau, My Cousin in Maya; 2nd, Maddox Ormiston, Maine Beach; and 3rd, Elayna Harrison, Aunt Johnny and Hobby. The third- and fourth-grade winners were: 1st, Zoe Libby Bean; 2nd, Regan Kauf, My Grandma; 3rd, Caleb Clarke, My Grandpa John. For the fifth- and sixth-grade exhibitors: 1st, Mike Rodway, Guitarist; 2nd, Skyelynn Patten, watercolor of a lady standing; 3rd, Liz Lyons, Alaura and Casey Riley.

This annual spring event is arranged to encourage elementary students to pursue and exhibit their artistic skills and expressions. The judging and show is presented in memory of Faye Sanborn Taylor who was a Bethel resident student herself who graduated from Gould Academy in 1926 and went on to study art in Boston. Later, after marrying and returning to Bethel in the 1950s, she resumed her own interest in art and landscape painting. This year one of her coastal scenes was on display, "Incoming Tide" — a large oil, perhaps one of Faye's best paintings — was loaned to the exhibit by Al and Jacquelyn Cressy. Faye Taylor's son, Kent, and her grandson, Joshua, were also on hand for the show's opening.

This year the art show included an adult section with the intention of showing parents and students how long out of school Bethel residents were still at work in the field of artistic expression. This year's exhibitors were Larry Engdahl, June Abbott, Gina Douglass, Walter Clark, Troy

Jordan and Donald Bennett. The Bethel Historical Society's next art exhibit will be in August during the society's annual Sudbury Canada Days celebration.

Gould Equestrians performed quadrille on the Common

Students in the Gould Academy Riding program and Deepwood Farm in Albany were on hand to perform a quadrille on the Common in mid-afternoon. Deepwood Farm supports the Gould team — this trimester there were eight students — with the essential elements — horses and riding equipment plus training. The farm owners teach horsemanship and operate youth camps; it is owned by DiAnne and Wyatt Ward who are located at 84 Parsonage Hill Road in Albany, not far up the hill from Albany's Congregational Church.

Saturday the Ward's had transported their horses to the Common by trailer. I had a chance to talk briefly with a student, Walter Zang, who was paired up with a beautiful, quiet chestnut named Hot Roddin Gunner. His home is in Shenzhen, which is not far from Hong Kong and was one of the cities visited by this year's freshman class on the China trip in March. After finishing Gould this year, in the top 10, he plans to study architecture and expects to attend the University of Illinois. DiAnne Ward said that the four young men from China I saw Saturday were avid riders and three will be returning next year. She felt that Saturday's quadrille was a fine way to end the season enjoyed by all.

Members of the wedding, almost

An unknown and unexpected wedding party and ceremony appeared on the Common after the horse show was over. Tying the knot was performed at the gazebo with the bridal party preceded to the gazebo from a horse-drawn coach by a top hat and tail-coated bagpiper. The invited wedding guests were seated in folding chairs at the gazebo and the sidewalk on-lookers stopped to watch along with them. Although the afternoon weather was sunny, a chilly breeze came through — possibly raising a few goosebumps. Overall though, the sidewalk public had a surprise opportunity to watch this fairytale-like scene unfold.

Meanwhile back in Mayville

Spring farming has been getting underway both by Sunday River Farm that had a crew harrowing and potato planting and Carter's Middle Intervale Farm had harrowing and planting going on in the field between the river and the River View.

Big doings were going on at the Whites. Saturday and Sunday a reception and wedding party congregated on the grounds of the Prodigal Inn. Sunday afternoon, guest parking stretched along both sides of Route 2 from the Norseman all the way to the Rostay — a very unusual sight. It may have been the first time in ten years that auto traffic including motorcycle riders actually slowed down to under 30 mph on their way by!

Memorial Day drill and ceremonies

This Memorial Day saw two, ceremonies instead of the usual one. At the Civil War memorial, which stands by the corner of Main and Mechanic streets, there was a special observance for having reached the 100th anniversary of the monument's placement in the town. Stan Howe read the story of how the initiative to fund the monument began and efforts to establish a permanent marker of respect by the town for the 180 men who had left Bethel in what was known here as the War of Rebellion.

From the monument the parade marched to the Common where the usual Memorial Day program was presented. This year's address to the citizens of Bethel was given by Captain Jarrod Crockett, Maine Army National Guard. Approximately 300 townspeople and visitors along with veterans, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Brownies and Cub Scouts and the Mahoosuc Community Band made up the attendees. The day's program was presented by American Legion Post 81 of Bethel.

Speakers at both the monument and the Common were often hard to hear due to lack of traffic control being set up for the occasion. As a result noisy cars and motorcycles frequently interrupted the ceremonies as they drove by, the day's events.

Melinda (Mason) Bishop, a Bethel native and now resident of Buckport, writes that her son, Brandon, was named Prom King at Hillcrest High School. A senior, he was also named "Mr. Buckport" in March. His aunt is Carol Mason.

Last Wednesday, the 21st, a beautiful female cria was born to Androscoggin at Sunday River Alpacas. Weighing in at 22.5 pounds, she has been named Sunday River Air Glow. She joins her half-brother, Sunday River Top Gun, who was born two weeks earlier to Nell. Both crias had White Heat for a sire, and both are beautiful and doing very well. Mo urges you to come out on the weekend to see them.

On Monday morning I saw the first fully blooming Lady's Slippers. There were ten pale pink slippers in a couple of adjoining clumps. A word to the wise: these are meant to be admired with eyes only — no picking, no digging, please.

Cathryn Lovejoy has been seeing and hearing a lone goose near her home. She thinks that he may have a mate now. She has also been hearing owls. One night she scored a "hat trick," hearing a screech owl, a great horned owl, and a barred owl! Cathryn also thinks she's been hearing bear activity around her yard and posits that Barker and Aurora of Sunday River Alpacas have heard a bear, too, because they have been barking at some critter in the night. As guard dogs for the alpaca herd, this is their job.

I'm happy to report that our daughter has heard a wood thrush on her property. Moreover, Mike and I heard one just up the road as we were returning from our Sunday morning walk. Wood thrushes have seemed somewhat scarce in recent years, while their even more melodious cousins, the hermit thrushes, have been heard regularly.

Linda and Reggie Westleigh traveled up to Norridge-wock on Saturday to lay flowers on the graves of Linda's parents. While there they also met up with Linda's brothers and had a pleasant visit. Linda and Reggie planned to attend the Memorial Day Parade in town and then go to grandson Austin's ball game in Norway Monday evening.

Weekend before last Jane Hosterman's daughter, Susie, was here for a visit with mom. Each year Jane and Susie exchange plants from their respective gardens, thereby improving both. This year was no exception.

The other day I saw the Trefethen-List family bliking up the Flat Road. Chris, of course, is training for the Trek Across Maine, and Eric, Eliot, and Sophie were riding along for encouragement. If you have had a friend or loved one with lung disease or respiratory problems, here's a chance to do something to help. You can write a check to American Lung Association of Maine and mail it to Christine Trefethen, P.O. Box 667, Bethel ME 04217; or you can go online to www.mainealung.org/events/trek/; click on "Pledge a trekker," type in Chris's name and follow instructions for pledging.

Saturday was the Historical Society's St. Never's Day Yard Sale. I rented a table there to try to sell some "cultch," and there were quite a few folks wandering among the tables. I think the society made a tidy profit, and there were still buyers on Sunday morning, picking up more wonderful bargains.

Deborah Doyle of Ingleside Classical Childcare Center invites you to their open house on Tuesday, June 3, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Learn about summer and fall programs. Children are welcome at the open house.

Tonight the Pleasant Valley Grange will have its monthly meeting and potluck dinner, starting at 6. This event is open to the public and includes the Missing Man Ceremony, led by lecturer Sue Ellen Richardson.

Don't forget the Library plant sale this Saturday, May 31, running from 9 to 10 a.m. on the lawn next to the library. Rain or shine, be there!

Another reminder — it is tick season (not to mention the state bird, black fly), and I've heard that we might have some deer ticks in addition to the familiar wood tick. Check your pets and yourself for tick bites, especially from those mighty mites, the deer ticks, which are no bigger than the head of a pin, but carry Lyme disease.

I hope to hear from more of you about your doings and any interesting flora and fauna you may have seen or heard. 836-3011; dhoe@megalink.net.

The weather on Sunday was great and gave everyone the feeling that summer was actually going to arrive.

Steve and Lise McLain attended the wedding of Jarrod Crockett and Paige Pittman this past Sunday. It was a good thing that the weather was so nice, since the wedding was held outside.

I had a call from Mary Tyler on Monday of last week. She had noticed a new bird at the feeder. It was a redheaded woodpecker. They are not native to this area so it was quite exciting. I kept watch and sure enough by Wednesday he arrived at my feeder.

He makes quite a lot of noise when he calls out and most mornings he feels that he needs to pound on the metal feeder outside the window. Hugh and I tried several times to get a picture, but he was quite elusive. We finally figured out that he calls out just before he leaves his perch on the light pole and flies to the feeder.

We could hear him and get the camera ready. It was a long process, but we finally got a couple of pictures. We saw Linda Smith at Wal-Mart on Friday and she had seen him also and would try for a picture.

We also ran into my cousin, Andy McLain, in Wal-Mart on Friday. It seems to be a great place to meet your neighbors and relatives and visit for a while.

My brother, Steve McLain, had some help with his garden this past weekend. His son, Brad and wife, Adrienne, stopped by to help construct some raised beds and to till up the garden. Joe McLain, who is still in Montana, has just finished a Wilderness First Responder Course. He is still very much into hiking and enjoying the great outdoors.

I went to work one day last week to fill in for the afternoon. When I got there I found out that it was really an early surprise birthday party. The women that I work with in the Adult Education Office are just great. I really appreciate all of you: Jeanie, Eileen, Vickie, Lois and Mary.

Town Office
Work has started on the new Town Office on Depot Street. Any meetings, from this point until the office is finished, will be held in the Town Hall next door. Anthony Morin has been working on removing the clapboards on the building. Bruce Korhonen arrived in the middle of the week and removed the old garage and a room on the back of the building. This will make way for the new addition that will serve as a meeting room and a connector to the Town Hall. There will be a handicapped bathroom in the Town Office that will be accessible from the Town Hall. The well drilling company showed up last Friday and set up. They are getting ready to begin drilling on Tuesday.

Gilead Historical Society
There are only three weeks left before Friends and Family Day on June 21. The GHS is still hoping to have plenty of volunteers to help out that day. Tickets for the quilt are available from members.

The proceeds from the new book, "The Cemeteries of Gilead, Maine," are beginning to accumulate. It was decided that the money would buy signs for the cemeteries that are maintained by the town. Don Katlin was sighted in the Bethel Post Office this past week, and he is interested in painting the signs for the cemeteries.

The musical "Lumberjacks and Wedding Belles" will be presented at Telstar on Saturday at 2 and 7 p.m. and on Sunday at 7 p.m. Jen and Tyler Aldrich are in the Pit (band) and Lisa Aron is in the play.

There are at least seven Bobs in Upton. According to my old friend Webster, Bob has at least as many definitions: to strike quickly, to move up and down quickly, to buff, to seize floating objects with teeth, a folk dance, to take by fraud, a cluster, the refrain of a song, a hanging weight, a kind of sled, a method of ringing, and a polishing wheel. The name "Bob" is obviously common, and it, too, has many origins, mostly nicknames for Robert.

Ellis River Riders held their first show on May 24. Mister Bub Wizard and his rider, Nancy Thew, both of Upton, entered eight classes and got ribbons in five: second in showmanship, third in Pleasure, fourth in Equitation, fourth in horsemanship, fourth in Walk/Trot Championship. Congratulations to Mister Bub and Nancy. Andover's next western show will be on Aug. 16.

Wayne and Collie have built a successful, customer-friendly, much-needed business in the Village Store. Selfishly speaking I hope they aren't successful in selling it. For them, however, they're hoping to find buyers who will not only continue what they've created, but will also have the time and inclination to expand and offer even more services to the customers. For their sakes, and because they'll stay in town, I hope the right buyers come along.

The Planning Board meets for business at 7 p.m. at the Town Office this coming Friday.

So many people were back in town over Memorial Weekend that I can't even greet them all by naming them, so I'll take this space to welcome them. There were a couple folks who, coming from a much warmer climate, thought they should still be able to buy chowder at the store. For those of us who live here year-round and enjoyed a heap of snow, it's definitely time for salads and burgers on the grill.

The Library will be opened in about two weeks. I'll keep you posted as to the times and days.

Diane Williamson's daughter and her family, which includes two kids, will be moving into the old Gagnon place soon. It'll be great to have more kids in town. My tax dollars go to causes I don't even agree with, but am given no choice in the matter. Although I don't completely agree with the decisions Upton has made concerning education, I have no objection to some of my tax money supporting children in town.

Have a great week. Selah.

What a beautiful weekend we had! I think half of the town planted their gardens on Sunday. Foxgloves and Daisies has officially opened for the season, with the area's largest variety of perennials (over 700 in stock). Their hours are Monday-Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday 12 to 5 p.m.

Andrea Bretz Savitz, of Andover Service Circle (ASC), had a lot of news to share. The Circle was delighted with the community turnout to the 6th annual Senior Appreciation Dinner on April 14. Having moved the event from late fall to spring apparently helped everyone, because travel was not an endurance trial.

The ASC/Roxbury ATV Riders Club roadside clean-up, on May 17, was the best community sprucing-up effort to date. Each year the event has attracted more volunteer participation, of which ASC remains grateful on behalf of the community.

Also, on the subject of volunteers, the Circle wishes to particularly recognize some of its youngest helpers, since they are our future. During the past year, ASC's wait staff/clean-up crews have included students Sarah Averill, Darren Jodrey, Heather Lincoln, Whitney Mills and Esther Pew. Lastly, it gives the Circle great pleasure in announcing that Esther Julia Pew received its 2008 Service Award at the Andover Alumni Awards Dinner, May 24. The award is given each year to a graduating high school student who has shown outstanding volunteerism in the River Valley area of Oxford County.

This coming weekend is the American Cancer Society's Relay for Life being held May 30-31 on Hosmer Field, Rumford. ASC members who are participating in the event include Evelyn Bodemer, Colleen Jaros, Ruby Kulpa, Peggy Madigan, Judy Michaud, Sue Mills, and Andrea Savitz. Each member's effort to raise charity funds for the event has been augmented by a donation from the Circle. Additionally, student Abby Mills has been assisted in her effort to gain sponsorship money for this event. And, Charlie and Rick Mills will be bicycling in the American Lung Association of Maine's Trek Across Maine, June 13-15, having been in part sponsored by ASC.

On Saturday I attended the annual Andover Alumni Banquet. What a nice job by Ronnie White, Dot Merrill Roberts, Bette Britt, and Ross Swain in putting the banquet together at the last minute. Also, thanks to Sharon Farrington and her kitchen crew for putting on the great meal. At the start of the meal, The Reverend Jane Rich said Grace, and Pastor Ken Wagstaff gave a toast to the seniors. Awards were presented to the following: Math, 9th grade, Tarra Arsenault; 10th grade, Allysa Cole, 11th grade, Whitney Mills; 12th grade, Mark Emerson. Science Award: Mark Emerson. The East Andover Community Club Award to Brianna Bailey. Lila Farrington Scholarship to Esther Pew, and award to Andover students in the top 10 of their class: Mark Emerson, Esther Pew and Julia Stambolis. The Walter Fox book awards were presented to: 6th grade, Kayla Cole; 7th grade, Ashley Hall; 8th grade, Adam Mahar; 9th grade, Elek Pew; 10th grade,

Historical Society
The Historical Society Museum has a nice collection of furniture. There is an Empire settee, a Victorian settee, an Eastlake settee and two drop-leaf dining tables, as well as a mahogany chest and small oak settee. There are the caned pieces from the George Allan England collection donated earlier to the society. There is some country furniture upstairs as well. They also have historic videos that have, or can, be used as programs at meetings. They do have one foot in the electronic age. They do not have a computer but the Library of Congress set up an Internet site for them, so they are online.

Curator Larry Billings enjoys the copies of the MAM newsletter he gets. The society also has many things from South Woodstock including the furniture from a church, the post office boxes and a small casket from the basket factory. So they represent all of Woodstock. They also have exhibits on the old mills in Woodstock. Once they were the major source of income for many of the citizens. Do visit this summer, see the exhibits, research library and gift shop. Society members serve as guides and are ready to serve you. In June they will be open 1 to 4 p.m. on Saturdays. Meetings are the second Saturday of each month, 7 p.m. at the museum.

Albany

by Sheila Dyke

Greetings and hello from Albany Township. What rain we got this weekend was nice — our gardens liked it, but, they sure could use more. We hope everyone off there had a good weekend. Gail and her husband were up this weekend visiting with our dear neighbor, Bud. It was nice seeing her again — it had been a couple of years. There were a lot of bicycles out on our hill this past weekend. Riders seem to enjoy the challenge our hill offers (I heard several comment on how good it feels to get to the top!). A lot of motorcycles were out as well. Basically, folks were just out and about, enjoying the warm weather, being outside. We were outside quite a bit this weekend, too, either working, cleaning or in the gardens.

Best wishes for a happy and safe week. God Bless and Keep!

Waterford

by Rockie Graham

It is the end of May and we had a frost the other day. It wasn't exactly a hard frost, but it was a frost in the end of May. I am glad the tomatoes and the peppers weren't planted yet! Aside from that, we have planted many plants. The seeds aren't up yet, but we are hoping for rain. They keep predicting it, but it doesn't come. They did just say, possible hail, but 70-80 degrees. Go figure!

Our chicks are doing well. Sometimes the turkeys even sound like turkeys, but the big growers are the boilers. They are getting huge and are bigger than the turkeys, for now. They almost look big enough to eat, already.

We had a busy weekend. The Stoneham Rescue breakfast was this past Sunday and of course we went. Where else can one get a complete breakfast for $5 and feel you are doing a good deed? We brought friend Gail this time. That was good.

The rest of the weekend I helped Rickie and Lorraine with their yard sale as they prepare to empty the Inn. Many people arrived. As is usual with anything there were the 10-of-crowd that showed up at 10 minutes to the end of the sale. This time I think they were looking for freebies. One family showed up on their bicycles. I am not sure what they expected to buy and take home on their bicycles as they didn't even have saddlebags or any way of carrying anything. Dave also fixed items for people — lawn tractors, TVs, etc.

This Thursday, the 29th Mountain Poets will hold their monthly poetry reading. It will begin at 7 p.m. at Fare Share Commons on Main Street in Norway. All poets are welcome to share their own or their favorite poems. It is also OK to come and just listen. FMI call Rockie at 743-0583 or Lisa at 743-9808.

On Friday, the 30th, there is an open mic night at the First Universalist Church in Norway. Sign up is at 6:30 p.m. and the open mic starts at 7. FMI call Heather at 935-4505 or www.vesselrecordings@yahoo.com.

On Saturday is the yearly Plant Sale at Bethel Library. It is from 9 to 10 a.m. FMI call Susan Parker at 824-4767, Susan Day at 824-2741, or John Applin at 836-3421.

That is all for this week. Have a great week and welcome in June on Sunday.

Resources for Alzheimer's
Peg Gagnon, Information and Outreach Specialist for the Alzheimer's Association, Maine Chapter, held a follow-up meeting with interested persons who had attended one of the dementia and respite training workshops held last month.

She said the recent series of workshops provided a base of informed persons in the community who could help create awareness of Alzheimer's disease.

Peg said the Maine Alzheimer's Association has a database of caregivers in the area and she will contact them to see if they could use some help.

She will also contact those who attended the recent dementia and respite training workshops to see if they wish to be added to a new mini-database of persons available to help caregivers if needed. This help could simply be in the form of doing errands or grocery shopping for the caregivers or talking walks, playing board games and the like for persons with Alzheimer's disease.

For further community awareness, Peg is willing to return to Bethel at a future date and hold a special one-time workshop on "Understanding Alzheimer's Disease." If you are interested in being contacted when another workshop is scheduled, please call Diana Milot at the Bethel Family Health Center at 824-2193 to be added to this list. These health-related workshops are sponsored as a community service by the "To Your Health Committee" of WMSC which includes SAD44/Community Education, BFHC, and Wayne DuPlessis.

Alzheimer's Support Groups and the valuable help they can offer to caregivers was discussed by Nan Timberlake. She said the Maine Veterans' Home on 477 High Street, South Paris, has an excellent support group, which is open to the public. It is held on the first Monday of the month from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. and anyone may attend. If you would like more information about this group, please call Nan at 824-2234.

"Woman to Woman"

at Down Home Maine
Sara Wright, naturalist from Woodstock, will discuss her unique "Woman to Woman" Peruvian artisan project at the next gathering of Down Home Maine, to be held on Thursday, June 5, from 4:30 to 6 p.m. at the Gehring House, 77 Broad Street, Bethel.

Sara serves as local spokesperson for the artisan project, which empowers Peruvian tribeswomen to create and export unique handicrafts combining local cultural themes and renewable area resources.

Major products include multi-colored wall hangings called "arpilleras" and one-of-a-kind Amazonian palm fiber baskets.

Sara, an instructor of English and Women's Studies at Central Maine Community College and the University of Maine, is also a published author. Three years ago she received a grant to study medicinal plants in the Peruvian Amazon and while there she discovered its people and their art.

Since that time she has been working with the tribeswomen helping them to create a sustainable economy by selling their baskets and wall hangings informally in western Maine. All profits support the Indian families and provide health and educational opportunities.

Down Home Maine is sponsored by Western Mountains Senior College to feature presentations by unique, creative, and adventurous Maine people. "Sara Wright clearly displays all these attributes," said Peter Gartner, co-chair of the Senior College.

She is dedicated to helping the Peruvian women and will be bringing some of their wall hangings and baskets to the program for display or purchase.

The program is open to the public without charge. However, voluntary contributions will be accepted to offset Senior College expenses.

Light hors d'oeuvres, wine and beverages will be available. For more information, contact Peter Gartner at 665-2181 or Seabury Lyon at 836-2576.

Maine's largest adaptive recreation program is gearing up for the summer months. MHS is offering summer instruction in paddling, cycling and golf for children and adults with physical disabilities at various locations in Maine.

Golf lessons will take place at Toddy Brook Golf Course in North Yarmouth. Students can participate in driving and putting instruction, and then take the newly acquired skills to the course. New this year, there will be four days at Martindale Golf Course in Auburn included in the MHS golf program.

Paddling lessons will give individuals with disabilities an opportunity to try canoeing or kayaking at Range Pond State Park in Poland. Adaptations can be made to the boats and students will learn basic paddling skills and techniques as well as boat safety. Advance paddling will include Androscoggin paddling trips with Sea Spray Kayak.

Maine Handicapped Skiing will offer individuals the prospect of improving aerobic fitness with cycling lessons at the Back Cove in Portland. A variety of hand- and foot-powered cycles will be available. A group Peaks Island ride will wrap up the cycling season.

All instruction and equipment use is free to the participants of MHS. If you would like to volunteer or participate in Maine Handicapped Skiing's summer adaptive recreation experience, please call (800) 639-7770 or e-mail MHS at info@skimhs.org.

From Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

The 29th annual Faye Taylor Memorial Art show was held on Saturday, May 24, in the exhibit room of the Bethel Historical Society's Dr. Moses Mason House. The theme this year was "It's All Relatives!" focusing on favorite relatives or "people art" from the past or present and was open to all SAD44 elementary students. Prizes this year were increased due to the generosity of Don and Kathy Bennett, who serve on the society's Art Committee. First prize was $50, second prize $35 and $20 in three divisions. Judges this year included Tim Kavanaugh, Larry Engdahl, and Donald Bennett.

This year's winners included the following: Division I (Grades 1 and 2): 1st, Kaiya Corriveau, Grade 2, Crescent Park School; 2nd, Maddox Ormiston, Grade 2, Crescent Park School; 3rd, Elyanna Harrison, Grade 2, Crescent Park School; Division II (Grades 3 and 4): 1st, Zoe Libby Bean, Grade 3, Crescent Park School; 2nd, Regan Kauf, Grade 3, Crescent Park School; 3rd, Caleb Clarke, Grade 4, Crescent Park School; Division III (Grades 5 and 6): 1st, Mike Rodway, Grade 5, Crescent Park School; 2nd, Skyelynn Patten, Grade 5, Crescent Park School; 3rd, Liz Lyons, Grade 5, Crescent Park School. Much appreciation is extended to all the participants, those who hung the art (Kathy Bennett, Grace Douglass, Arlene Lowell, and Jim Macgregor) and those who in any way made this show such a success.

This contest honors the memory of Faye Sanborn Taylor (1908-1972), a local landscape painter, who was very interested in encouraging the creative talents of young people. Mrs. Taylor was also a charter member of the Bethel Historical Society and its first treasurer. This event is one of several programming opportunities offered to students each year by the society.

St. Never's Day Sale
Once again the annual Bethel Historical Society's St. Never's Day sale, on May 24, on Stan Howe's lawn was a success. Thanks to all who donated "treasures" for the sale and to those who helped organize it and serve as cashiers including Grace McKivergan, Sylvia Clanton, Pat McCartney, Tineke Ouwinga, Carol York, Steve Wight, Joe Arizzi, Jay Boschetti, and Annie Hastings). All proceeds from the sale support the operations of the Bethel Historical Society.

From Telstar High School

The "Hip Hop Handbook," a performance group dedicated to the promotion of literacy and creative expression through the Hip Hop Arts, LUMBERJACKS AND WEDDING BELLES—The Telstar High School Drama Department will present "Lumberjacks and Wedding Belles," a musical about the Washington Territory, this weekend. A description of the production's plot: "Washington Territory is shy on marriageable females, so Asa, an enterprising lawyer, sails to Boston and fetches a group of prospective brides. At first the girls don't like the rough life, especially when the belles discover they have an enemy in the horrible Scrubbs family, consisting of cantankerous Ma, her ox of a son and Ma's two boy-crazy daughters. They hate lumberjacks because they cut down trees and that's bad for trappin' critters. When the villainous (and funny) Mayor Crook discovers Asa is running for the Territorial Legislature, an office he aspires to, Crook conspires to discredit Asa. Asa and some of the ladies land in jail. But, of course, the bad guys are defeated as all manner of musical mirth breaks out." Performances will take place Saturday at 2 and 7 p.m., and Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Telstar auditorium. Admission is free, but donations will be accepted for the Telstar Drama Dept. (Photo: C. Savage) will be teaching and performing at Telstar this Friday, May 30. During the school day, this group will be teaching workshops to both middle and high school students, educating them about the history of hip-hop, along with hands-on instruction of emceeing, deejaying, graffiti arts, and breakdancing. In the evening, this group will present a showcase of their talents on the Telstar auditorium stage. The showcase will include performances of musical rap, DJ turntables, vocal percussion, and breakdancing.

The "Hip Hop Handbook" was started in 2006 by a hip hop duo known as the Rebelz. They began a mission to teach and entertain by putting together a showcase representing all the elements of Hip Hop that teaches the true history of one of America's first music cultures. Their goal is to build confidence in youth, promote the positivity of the Hip Hop culture, and instill self-esteem in kids by helping them to express themselves through this art form. Their workshops and performances provide students of all ages with the opportunity to experience and enjoy various forms of urban music and dance expression in a safe, respectful, and positive format. Last year alone the "Hip Hop Handbook" performed in 30 states, clocking over 90,000 miles. They performed for over 150,000 students from elementary to college levels and expanded Hip Hop culture awareness. They have worked with many incredible artists and dancers including Jive Turkey's, Rock Steady Crew, Cirrus Run Away's, Sole Position, F Rock, BYC, Footklan, Massive Monkeys, and many others.

The "Hip Hop Handbook" performance will be held from 6 to 7:30 p.m. in the Telstar Auditorium, and admission will be $4. All proceeds from the event will benefit the TMS Visiting Artists Fund, which will help to bring exciting and educational visiting artists and performers to Telstar next year.

Memorial Day 2008

Area towns observed Memorial Day Monday. In Bethel (left), Sylvia Clanton says a prayer at the ceremony on the common. In the foreground are flags from the Healing Fields project — American Legion Post 82 members sold flags on Mollycoddett Day last year, and they were flown in Portland on Nov. 11 at the State of Maine Healing Field. This month, some went to Augusta to be flown on Memorial Day, but Jerry and Jeri Greenwell decided to bring the local ones to Bethel. Top, Capt. Jarrod Crockett, at left, gives the keynote address. Right, a woman and child step slowly to "Let There Be Peace on Earth," played by the Mahosuc Community Band. Lower right: Charlie Myles with his daughter, Charleen Chase of Bethel. Myles, 89, is a WWII veteran who served in the U.S. Army 8th Air Force. Lower left: Stan Howe addresses parade participants and spectators at the Civil War monument on the 100th anniversary of its dedication (black and white photo). See address in box below. Bottom left: Town Manager Scott Cole with Lavinia Clarke, 6, this year's Miss Poppy for Legion Post 81. She is the daughter of Beth and Brad Clarke, and has two uncles serving in the Army. 1908 Civil War Monument

One hundred years ago this month more than 2,000 people gathered here to dedicate a monument to Bethel's Civil War Veterans. Some of the excitement of that time is found in the pages of The Bethel Citizen:

"Every fluttering flag waved patriotism and every heart throbbled love of country." It was a glorious day and we cannot be too grateful to the enthusiastic mind which conceived it and loyal workers who cooperated in carrying the plan, to such a happy consummation."

It took some time, however, to get plans for the monument worked out. Bethel's Brown Post of the Grand Army of Republic, the Civil War Veteran's Organization, and its Women's Relief Corps, responding to the national trend in the late 19th century of providing memorials and other reminders of past deeds so that the memory and sacrifices of the War would not be forgotten by future generations attempted to place a civil memorial on the Bethel Common. Almost immediately opposition came to this plan from Dr. John and Mrs. Marian True Gehring, who had great influence on what went on in their neighborhood despite the fact that Mrs. Gehring's brother, Alfred True, was a Civil War Veteran.

The Brown Post and the Gehrings struggled for nearly 20 years until it was determined the monument would not go on the Common but on "Heater Piece" of land at the corner of Mechanic and Main where a wooden bandstand stood. This was removed to make way for the monument which was funded by many individuals and the town of Bethel which contributed $1,000 of the $2,000 plus raised to fund the project.

The ceremonies began with martial music from the "Splendid Band," according to The Citizen, which was the Rumford Falls Band of 25 pieces.

A parade was led by Grand Marshall Major Adelbert Twitchell, then living in Newark, N.J., accompanied by a number of mounted veterans included A.M. True.

The son of 5th Maine Commander Clark S. Edwards, who died in 1903 and whose funeral was attended by Gen. Joshua Chamberlain. Clark Edwards also rode with Major Twitchell as did other Bethel Civil War Veterans.

Also in the procession were the speakers, municipal officers, then thinning ranks of Bethel Civil War Veterans on foot, then the band of Loyal Women, then followed by school children with glowing faces and waving flags, Gould Academy students, and finally by scarlet-coated Bethel firemen.

Parade route began on Church Street in front of the Academy, up to the Common and around it and then down Main Street to the monument site, businesses, and residences were decorated with bunting and flags.

At the monument, veterans and the Relief Corps went to the right and students and public to the left of the more than 2,000 in attendance.

A speaker's stand had been erected for this event; the ceremony began with band music, a prayer, then school children and patriotic songs.

Attorney Ellery Park was the presiding officer and paid tribute to the Bethel soldiers contribution to the war effort.

Brown Post Commander A.H. Hutchinson was then called upon to unveil the monument. He paid tribute to Col. Edwards whose daughter Nellie officially pulled the string and the flag dropped from the monument to the sound of the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

Next E.C. Bowler, editor of The Citizen, which did so much to help raise the money for the monument, spoke of the role of the public in making this monument possible.

A.M. True made some remarks about his Civil War memories and then Sarah Putnam, a former resident of Bethel who was prominent in the National Relief Corps paid tribute to the women who helped make this monument possible.

The featured speaker for the day was Major John Mead Gould of Portland who attended Gould Academy and married a Twitchell from Bethel whom he had met while a student at Gould. John Mead Gould has the distinction of authoring the most extensive and well-known diary (now published) of any Maine Civil War soldier. He was reported as giving a stirring address that had a particular effect on the young in attendance according to The Citizen. He was followed by the Grand Marshall, Major Twitchell, who paid tribute to his fallen comrades.

Thus ended the day's ceremonies that we celebrate today, 100 years later. The Civil War, and its memory lives on with this important reminder here in Bethel for us and for all future generations.

ARTICLE 12: To see what sum the District will appropriate for the total cost of funding public education from kindergarten to grade 12 as described in the Essential Programs and Services Funding Act and to see what sum the District will raise and assess as each municipality's contribution to the total cost of funding public education from kindergarten to grade 12 as described in the Essential Programs and Services Funding Act in accordance with the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 20-A, section 1368B. Recommended amounts set forth below:

Town of Andover:	Town of Bethel:	Town of Greenwood:	Town of Newry:	Town of Woodstock:
$1,084,122.76	$3,289,603.68	$1,166,470.26	$283,561.83	$1,336,893.79
School District Total
Appropriated (Sum of above)	$7,160,452.33
Total raised (and District assessments by municipality):		$327,996.44	$1,832,003.18	$340,560.66
		$1,528,773.11	$653,011.43
				$653,011.43

Explanation: The District's contribution to the total cost of funding public education from kindergarten to grade 12 as described in the Essential Programs and Services Funding Act is the amount of money determined by state law to be the minimum amount that the District must raise and assess in order to receive the full amount of state dollars

ARTICLE 13: To see what sum the District will raise and appropriate for the annual payments on debt service previously approved by the District voters for non-state-funded school construction projects and non-state-funded portions of school construction projects and minor capital projects in addition to the funds appropriated as the local share of the District's contribution to the total cost of funding public education from kindergarten to grade 12

Board of Directors Recommends $153,941.00

Explanation: Non-state-funded debt service is the amount of money needed for the annual payments on the District's long-term debt for major capital school construction projects and minor capital renovation projects that are not approved for state subsidy. The bonding of this long-term debt was previously approved by the District voters.

ARTICLE 14: (Written ballot required). To see what sum the District will raise and appropriate in additional local funds (Recommended $1,195,768.00), which exceeds the State's Essential Programs and Services Allocation model by (Recommended $1,039,385.05) as required to fund the budget recommended by the Board of Directors.
The Board of Directors recommends $1,195,768.00 for additional local funds and gives the following reasons for exceeding the State's Essential Programs and Services funding model by $1,039,385.05. These funds are needed to provide smaller class sizes than are recognized by the Essential Programs and Services funding model, to provide greater academic support in the form of educational technicians in District classrooms than is recognized by the Essential Programs and Services funding model, to pay for co-curricular costs not recognized by the Essential Programs and Services funding model, to pay for transportation costs not recognized by the Essential Programs and Services funding model, to pay for voter approved debt service of the career and technical education region, and to pay for fuel and diesel cost increases not recognized by the Essential Programs and Services funding model.

Explanation: The additional local funds are those locally raised funds over and above the District's local contribution to the total cost of funding public education from kindergarten to grade 12 as described in the Essential Programs and Services Funding Act and local amounts raised for the annual payment on non-state funded debt service that will help achieve the District budget for educational programs.

ARTICLE 15 SUMMARIZES THE PROPOSED SCHOOL BUDGET

ARTICLE 15: To see what sum the District will authorize the Board of Directors to appropriate for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2008 and ending June 30, 2009 from the District's contribution to the total cost of funding public education from kindergarten to grade 12 as described in the Essential Programs and Services Funding Act, non-state-funded school construction projects, additional local funds for school purposes under the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 20-A, section 1369B, unexpended balances, tuition receipts, state subsidy and other receipts for the support of schools.
Board of Directors Recommends $10,253,190.00

ARTICLE 16 AUTHORIZES EXPENDITURE OF GRANTS AND OTHER RECEIPTS

ARTICLE 16: Shall the Board of Directors be authorized to expend such other sums as may be received from federal or state grants or programs or other sources during the fiscal year for school purposes provided that such grants, programs or other sources do not require the expenditure of other funds not previously appropriated?

ARTICLE 17 AUTHORIZES THE ADULT EDUCATION PROGRAM AND RAISES THE LOCAL SHARE

ARTICLE 17: To see if Maine School Administrative District No. 44 will appropriate $102,009.00 for adult education and raise $106,721.00 as the local share, with authorization to expend any additional, incidental, or miscellaneous receipts in the interest and for the well-being of the adult education program.

ARTICLE 18 AUTHORIZES A TRANSFER TO AND EXPENDITURE FROM THE CAPITAL RESERVE FUND

ARTICLE 18: Shall the Board of Directors be authorized to transfer $500,000 from available balances at the end of the 2007-2008 fiscal year to the School Capital Reserve Fund and to expend $111,140.80 from said reserve fund for the purpose of funding 63.24% of the costs of a sprinkler system and structural repairs to the entrance canopy of Telstar Middle School/High School (the "Project") with the balance of Project costs of up to $180,859.20 (36.76%) to be funded by a state grant through the School Revolving Renovation Fund Program?

American Life in Poetry

Selection and comments by Ted Kooser, U.S. Poet Laureate 2004-2006

In "The Moose," a poem much too long to print here, the late Elizabeth Bishop was able to show a community being created from a group of strangers on a bus who come in contact with a moose on the highway. They watch it together and become one. Here Robert Bly of Minnesota assembles a similar community, around an eclipse. Notice how the experience happens to "we," the group, not just to "me," the poet.

Seeing the Eclipse in Maine

It started about noon.

On top of Mount Batte,
We were all exclaiming.
Someone had a cardboard
And a pin, and we all cried out when the sun
Appeared in tiny form
on the notebook cover.

It was hard to believe.

The high school teacher
We'd met called it a pinhole camera,
People in the Renaissance loved to do that.
And when the moon had passed partly through

We saw on a rock underneath a fir tree,
Dozens of crescents—made the same way—
Thousands! Even our straw hats produced
A few as we moved them over the bare granite.

We shared chocolate,

and one man from Maine
Told a joke. Suns were everywhere —at our feet.

It's always wise to call ahead

SUE FARRAR INSTRUCTS AT WMSC—Sue Farrar, 90, recently instructed a dozen members of the Western Mountains Senior College in Pilates. She ended the program with a split.

From

U.M. Cooperative Extension

The University of Maine Cooperative Extension in partnership with the Snow School, SAD 72; Telstar High School, SAD 44; and the Hartford/Sumner School, SAD 39 received three 21st Century Grant grants administered through the Maine Department of Education. The grants are for five years with slightly decreasing amounts in years four and five.

The grants will help each of the schools build an after-school program designed to provide students with academic support and quality enrichment programs in a caring and nurturing program after school, during vacations and in the summer.

The University of Maine and the schools are very excited to have this opportunity to help students to continue to learn and to have more quality educational opportunities. In addition, the grants will contribute to the after-school students' participation in a school-based and summer outdoor educational camp and leadership program at the new UMaine 4-H Camp and Learning Center at Bryant Pond.

The program will begin by hiring new staff and enrichment teachers. The programs will also develop new advisory boards, which will work toward the creation of each new program site.

The University of Maine Cooperative Extension has been helping communities develop programs since 1991, and has arranged for the Hartford/Sumner and Snow Schools to model their new programs after the very successful Mahosuc Kids Program started in Bethel and the surrounding communities over seven years ago at the elementary level. The program is given a five-year grant timeframe to ensure sustainability beyond the grant.

In addition to academic support for students, quality enrichment programs in the performing arts, international cultures, crafts, sciences and in cross discipline areas will be the focus of the programs. If community members would like more information about the program or to explore the possibility of volunteering with one of the projects, please contact Susan Jennings, Extension educator at (800) 287-1482.

From

Harvest Gold Gallery

Harvest Gold Gallery in Center Lovell is now open with a seven-room show of American-made fine art and crafts. The show includes seven local Lovell artists this year.

Pamela Lord Bliss, photographer of local landscapes and wildlife has an interesting collection of prints and cards all of top quality. Her Kezar Lake sunsets and loons on the water capture the true beauty of the area. She was born and raised in North Lovell. She traveled some and then returned home to raise her family.

A PAUL HARRIS FELLOW—Leigh M. Dickinson received a Rotary Paul Harris Fellow award May 3 at the District Conference in North Conway, N.H. from her husband W. K. Read Dickinson (center). The award was a complete surprise to her, despite many Rotarians being aware of the plan. Funds donated as part of the award go to support projects of the Rotary International Foundation. At right is Michael McGovern, an official with Rotary International. (Photo: Bob Lauer)

Always artistic she has explored many avenues of arts and crafts.

Linda Hawley of Rattlesnake Island makes birch bark baskets from the fallen trees on the island.

She takes extreme care in her craftsmanship. All pieces are finished seamlessly and are designed to last for generations.

Harriet Sage of the Center Lovell Inn shows her cards made from her beautiful paintings.

Dave Morine, author of Vacationland, and Bob Williams, author of Lovewell's Town have signed copies of their books available.

And, of course, Lynda and Bill of Harvest Gold Jewelry have many new pieces on display.

Open most days 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. FMI: call 925-6502 or visit www.harvestgoldgallery.com.
